

THE NORMAL COLLEGE OPEN.

A LARGE INCREASE IN THE NUMBER OF STUDENTS.

THERE ARE 3,020 IN THE BUILDING—PRESIDENT HUNTER'S ADDRESS.

On the opening day of the Normal College in 1880 there were 2,862 students present, an increase of over 200 from the previous year, and at that time President Hunter said to a Tribune reporter: "Two thousand pupils are more than the Normal College building was designed for. Fifteen hundred is the proper number for us to handle, but I do not think that we shall have such a large number again." Since the close of the scholastic year in June, this year, an executive committee, under the chairmanship of Charles H. Knowlton, of the board, and according to the usual custom of the college, when the opening exercises were held yesterday morning for the new year there were gathered together 3,020 pupils under one roof, the largest number in the history of the college.

Ex-President William Wood, of the Board of Education, presided at the opening exercises. An address to the candidates was delivered by President Charles H. Knowlton, of the board, and according to the usual custom of the college, when the opening exercises were held yesterday morning for the new year there were gathered together 3,020 pupils under one roof, the largest number in the history of the college.

"You must not think," he continued, "because the course which you are about to begin upon is an arduous one, that the public schools that it is so, but remember that many times a simple path leads to rocky heights, and the traveler needs to be warned. You must not think that the French call it 'la grande école' because it is a great school, but because it is a great school. If these are properly attended to, the greater matters of the law will be conformed to."

The new year begins with no changes in the faculty, with the exception of two temporary substitutes during the illness of Professor Day, who is in the hospital, and Miss Lefebvre, who is ill at her home in France. The college has been divided into thirty-seven sections, being two more than last year. The number of students in each section is as follows: In the Training Department, the regular pupils will receive their instruction. The regular pupils will receive their instruction. The regular pupils will receive their instruction.

During the first three days after the opening, a great deal of correspondence has been made in order that every point in the applicant's favor may be obtained, and to prevent a year's delay in the admission of the new pupils. It had been below the mark of entrance this year, fifteen were admitted upon the revision of the papers.

FALSE VOUCHERS USED.

POSTAL OFFICIALS AT PROVIDENCE. R. I. DISMISSED FOR DEFRAUDING THE GOVERNMENT.

Washington, Sept. 13.—Acting Postmaster-General Jones today ordered the dismissal of Assistant Postmaster Williams, of the office at Providence, R. I., with other officials, including a substitute letter-carrier named Abbott, two regular carriers and several clerks. The charge is conspiracy among the officials removed to defraud the Government by signing vouchers for work which had not been done. The Government has lost considerable money. It is not known how long the system has been practised in Providence, or if it or a similar one has been in operation at other post-offices. The scheme is one heretofore unknown to the postal authorities in Washington. The investigation will be pressed, and other removals at Providence are said to be probable.

"FERD" WARDS SON KIDNAPPED.

TWO MEN CARRIED THE BOY AWAY IN A CARRIAGE, BUT WERE SUBSEQUENTLY CAPTURED.

Pittsford, Conn., Sept. 13.—Clarence, the ten-year-old son of Ferdinand Ward, of Grant & Ward firm, living with his uncle Fred D. Green, at Thompson, was kidnapped this morning in a public street by two men in a carriage.

The boy has made his home with his uncle Mr. Green, in Thompson, since the death of his father. While his father was in St. Louis, Mr. Green was appointed guardian of the boy by the New York courts, and has charge of the property left to Clarence by his mother, which amounts to $30,000. Ferdinand Ward since his release from prison has made several attempts to gain the custody of the boy through the courts, but his efforts have been unsuccessful.

At about 8 o'clock this morning, while Clarence was playing in the yard with his mother, the two men drove up in a carriage and called the boy and asked him to get into the carriage. He did so, and quickly seized the child, put him in the carriage and held him there. The horse was then whipped up and the kidnappers drove northward toward Westport, Mass., over the State line.

Miss Green gave the alarm to the household, and her father at once informed the police. They started in pursuit of the kidnappers. About 10 o'clock a message was received here from Westport that the boy had been recovered. He was soon afterward returned to Mr. Green and the men were locked up.

BISHOP NEWMAN'S RETURN.

A private letter has been received from Bishop John P. Newman, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, announcing that he will sail for this city tomorrow on the liner steamer Umbria. Mrs. Newman is with him. The bishop, who has been abroad for the last four months, attending the conferences of the Methodist Episcopal Church in foreign lands, says: "Our tour of the European trip will cover over 20,000 miles. I have spoken over eighty times during my visit to fifteen nationalities. Methodism is going to be a power in Europe, and America everywhere."

J. V. GOTTSCALK TO LEAVE THE GARDEN.

The friends of J. V. Gottschalk, the business manager of the Madison Square Garden, were much surprised last night to learn that he had resigned that place. He has held it for two years or so, since it was resigned by James W. Morrissey. Mr. Gottschalk has had special charge of the roof garden and the concert hall, and he has always been extremely popular with those who have occupied the various parts of the Garden from time to time as exhibitors or entertainers, as well as with the public. A meeting of the Board of Directors will be held today to take action in regard to the resignation.

DEATH OF MISS LILLIAN ISHAM.

Miss Lillian Isham, the daughter of the late R. W. Charles Isham, of this city, died yesterday at Woodford, near Portland, Me., from heart failure. Miss Isham was twenty-seven years of age. She was the daughter of the late R. W. Charles Isham, of this city, and was married to Mr. W. H. North, of Washington Square. Since that time she had worked indefatigably and with great success. A few months ago, ill health compelled her to retire from her work, and she went to Woodford, where it was hoped she would recuperate in time for the reopening of the kindergarten after the summer vacation.

THE VETERANS AT PITTSBURGH.

THE INEVITABLE DECLINE BEGINS.

From The Boston Journal.

There is an unattractive pathos in the Grand Army of the Republic. The decline has begun from which there can be no recovery.

PERHAPS THEIR LAST PARADE.

From The Chicago Tribune.

Interest as probably it will be the last public parade of the boys in blue who carried the flag of the Union through the streets of the city. For several years past there has been a growing sentiment in favor of abandoning this feature of the annual gathering of the Grand Army of the Republic, and many of whom are entangled by age and cannot bear exposure to the elements as they did when young men.

THEIR TIME IS LIMITED.

From The Chicago Record.

The knowledge that the time is limited in which the public may express its hearty appreciation of the soldiers who have served the country has led to the passing opportunity to do so while it may.

KEEP UP THE PARADE.

From The Boston Advertiser.

It is to be hoped that the annual parade will not be given up. It does not depend for its effect on being given up. It does not depend for its effect on being given up. It does not depend for its effect on being given up.

THE WAR PASSIONS DYING OUT.

From The Newark Advertiser.

Another instance of the dying out of the passions of the Civil War is shown in the cordial invitation which Kentucky, through her brilliant son, Henry Watterson, extended to the R. R. to hold its next encampment in Louisville in 1895.

MURDERED BY HER HUSBAND.

BELIEVING HIS WIFE TO BE UNFAITHFUL, CHARLES GARRETT CUTS HER THROAT FROM EAR TO EAR.

Lebanon, Penn., Sept. 13.—Mrs. Charles Garrett was murdered here at 9 o'clock this morning by her husband, who cut her throat from ear to ear. Garrett had just been released from the Eastern Penitentiary, after serving three and a half years for assault. He arrived here on Philadelphia street car, and shot a number of old-time companions, who told him that during his imprisonment his wife had been unfaithful.

Mrs. Garrett, who lived at Third and Chestnut streets, was standing at the doorway when her husband entered the street. She uttered a scream of terror and ran. He caught her in the yard of a neighbor. Seizing her by the hair, he threw her to the ground, and pulling out a razor, drew it across her throat from ear to ear. She staggered a few feet, fell in a bloody pool and expired. The murder was witnessed by several persons, but they seemed powerless to interfere.

This afternoon three men were arrested at Pine Grove, and it is believed that one of them is the murderer. He gave his name as William Garrett, and answered the description of the husband.
